New Assignments in State Revenue Department

James Lucy Named Individual and Corporate Tax Director; Ann Winborne, Assistant Director, Tax Administration

Montgomery – Alabama Revenue Commissioner Julie P. Magee recently announced the appointment of two key positions within the Alabama Department of Revenue (ADOR).

James Lucy has been named director of the department's Individual and Corporate Tax Division and assumed his new management post following the retirement of Mr. Richard Henninger, Individual and Corporate Tax Division director, on Nov. 1, 2011.

Ann Winborne was appointed assistant director of the Individual and Corporate Tax Division, Tax Administration. Mrs. Winborne's appointment was effective Sept. 16, 2011.

Mr. Lucy, an Auburn University at Montgomery graduate, began his career with the ADOR as a revenue examiner in 1981, and has since held various supervisory and management positions within the Individual and Corporate Tax Division. In the early years of electronic filing initiatives, Mr. Lucy led the department's efforts in implementing electronic filing for individual income tax returns and in the development of various individual income tax forms and related tax schedules.

Mrs. Winborne, a certified public accountant and certified public manager, began her career with the ADOR in 1984 as a revenue examiner in the department's Tuscaloosa Taxpayer Service Center. Prior to her appointment as assistant director, Mrs. Winborne served as the Administrative and Support Unit manager of the department's Individual and Corporate Tax Division. Mrs. Winborne, a graduate of the University of North Alabama and Troy State University in Montgomery, is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and of the Alabama Society of Certified Public Accountants.

“Both James and Ann bring years of valuable experience and institutional knowledge to their new job assignments,” said State Revenue Commissioner Julie P. Magee. “Their commitment to public service and their leadership styles set high standards within the department. I am proud to welcome them to their new assignments in Revenue.”
