Alabama Tax Relief Offered to Residents Affected by Hurricane Ivan

Montgomery, Ala.—The Alabama Department of Revenue (ADOR) announced today that Alabama tax relief filing measures will be offered to affected business taxpayers located in Alabama counties struck by Hurricane Ivan.

State Revenue Commissioner Tom Surtees issued a tax filing and payment extension order today extending the upcoming Sept. 20, 2004, filing date for 30 days. Filing and payment dates for state tax returns normally due Sept. 20, 2004, will be extended until Oct. 20, 2004, for affected Alabama taxpayers located in counties struck by Hurricane Ivan.

Relief measures will be handled on a case-by-case basis. Late filing and late payment penalties will be waived for a tax return that is due to be filed or a tax that is due to be paid on or by Sept. 20, 2004, provided the return is filed and the tax is paid by Oct. 20, 2004. Alabama's tax relief does not include the waiver of interest.

Taxpayers who are eligible for the relief should add the following designation in red ink at the top of any Alabama “paper” returns they file: “IVAN.” Those taxpayers who file electronic returns should contact the appropriate ADOR division office for instructions on how to qualify for the extension.
