Reminder: Business Personal Property Returns Due in October

MONTGOMERY, Oct. 7, 1998—Individuals owning business personal property are reminded to file their business personal property returns with the appropriate county assessing officials beginning October 1, according to State Revenue Commissioner H.E. "Gene" Monroe Jr.

"Although the business personal property returns are not delinquent until December 31 of this year," said Monroe, "we encourage business owners to file on time, not only to comply with timely filing, but also to avoid any last-minute confusion in the identification and itemization of their business personal property."

Business personal property consists of machinery, equipment, furniture and fixtures used in the operation of a business. Some business owners have commercial vehicles consisting of special additions or specialized equipment called "add-on" or "added value" equipment. This type of equipment must be included on the business personal property return; it is not included with the ad valorem taxes paid during vehicle registration, as those taxes apply only to the value of the vehicle cab and chassis, or frame.

Examples of "add-on" equipment may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Box type bodies
- Concrete mixer drums
- Dumping mechanisms
- Wrecker rigs
- Propane and petroleum tanks
